

tripadvisor REVIEWS

Ranked #888 of 7,926 restaurants in New York City

FANTASTIC FOOD

The service is fantastic and the food better. Great little place to have a meal. The servers go out of their way to ensure you are satisfied. Nice selection of beer as well.

GOOD FOOD, GOOD SERVICE AND GREAT CHANGE OF PACE

Stopped in here tonight - we had a Scotch Egg appetizer and Steak and Ale pie as a main. Both were delicious. Our waiter stopped by to check on us at least four times which is unheard of in these parts. It's rare to find somewhere this close to Times Square with good food, good service and a great atmosphere. We'll definitely come back here!

NICE SURPRISE

Was looking for a bite close to the hotel and was very impressed. Excellent service and food was top notch. Had C&B Burger, Chicken Pot Pie for dinner. The Apple & Ale Pie for dessert was amazing; a surprising must-try!

VERY GOOD FOOD IN HEART OF MANHATTAN

Very good food. Especially on a cold day. We had hamburgers and chicken pot pie and beef ale. We all enjoyed what we had. Service was excellent. Nice setting right on 45th st. Very good lunch for us all!

GREAT PLACE

The pub is full of great people. Excellent food service and options. A great place for all! Definitely a place to be in NYC

LOVELY ENGLISH PUB WITH GOOD SERVICE

If you like British food this is a wonderful little pub. Set right in Midtown (near the Holiday Inn Express) this offers traditional British fare. If eating dinner you are normally seated upstairs which is nice and fairly quiet. Drinks are downstairs in the more lively pub area. We had a waiter from Kansas who was delightful. He was attentive, but not too much and enjoyed conversation with us throughout the evening. Pub is reasonably priced for NYC and the food was good.

"GOOD LUNCH STOP"

We stopped for a quick lunch on our way uptown. The food was good and the service quite nice. I had the pea soup and my daughter had a burger which were both well prepared and fresh. The servers were very polite and pleasant. This was only a few doors from our hotel.

A HIDDEN GEM

This place was on the same block we were staying and we passed it by a couple of times. On our last day before flying out, we wanted to find a quiet place to sit for a while and have a beer and lunch. I'm so glad we stopped by. The upstairs dining area is really quaint and being Christmastime is decorated sweetly. The food sounded amazing off the menu and was very good. I had steak and ale pie with a side of mushy peas. Honestly, I was digging the peas so much - FRESH peas mashed with bacon - my pie took second place. It was good, but needed a bit more gravy. We had good service as well. Will definitely seek this place out again next time I'm in the city!

GOOD ATMOSPHERE AND FOOD

After the hustle and bustle of New York City we just wanted someplace to sit, have a beer and have something to eat. The food was reasonable and good. I loved the pub style atmosphere. Definitely a place to grab a good burger, pot pie or even home made mac and cheese. Very good.